

Andre Geiger Bio:

Andre has spent the majority of his childhood in Dayton, Ohio with his mother and grandparents. His Family later moved to Trotwood, Ohio where he excelled in academics and athletics in both basketball and football before graduating in 2004. Andre is currently working on his degree in Business Administration and Management. Andre enjoys working with kids and believes he can be a role model for children, and people throughout the community. Andre believes that the way a child presents themselves is a key factor in determining success. Andre encourages every child to always seek higher education.

Andre is ready and eager to help develop your child in both basketball skill and character through various skill building basketball concepts and class-oriented workshops.